SCHOOL PROGRAM PRESENTED AT LIONS MEETING

Centerville Lions and their guests were given the opportunity to see and hear what takes place during the school year at Washington Union High School at last Tuesday's meeting in the school cafeteria.

President A. J. Petsche turned the annual ladies night meeting over to Principal J. V. Goold, who acted as chairman of the program commemorating Public Schools week.

Introducing the program, Goold set the tone when he said, "The dinner you have just had is similar to the meals served to the students every day, in this same cafeteria."

The inside story of high school life and activities was then presented through official reports, student participation in the program, and a movie of the students taken by the students.

HIGH ATTENDANCE

Warren E. Gravestock, principal of the evening high school, reviewed activities of the evening students and stated that February and March of this year witnessed the highest enrollment attendance to date.

Of the more than five hundred evening school enrollees, 32 are taking courses for high school credit, and five are expected to get their diplomas this year, according to Gravestock. The wide scope of popular evening courses, he said, ranges from electronics and shop mechanics to leathercraft and flower arranging.

SERVICEMEN HEEDED

Special attention to placement and education of returning servicemen is vital, even if behind-the-scenes, concern of Goold and his staff. Consistent with state and national educational policy, every opportunity, through subject tests or general development tests, is given the veteran to gain academic credit and to graduate.

The feature of the program came with the showing of a movie of candid shots of daily school life. The movie shows the students from the time they leave the morning bus through the day of study in the classrooms or craftshops, at their noonday meal in the cafeteria, and at sports for fun or competition in the S.C.V.A.L.

This movie, under the direction of Miss Van Winkle, was shot by students Thelma Logan, Vic Fracolli, Stoney Mayock, Ray Luiz and Barbara De Borba. Principal student actors are Winnie Pereira and Raymond Luiz.

ENTERTAINERS

Entertainment for the evening, another indication of one of the school's activities, was furnished by students Jeannette Luna, Laverne Harvey and Beverly Soito—a vocal trio with Music Director D. H. Thornburg at the piano.

Closing the program, Goold spoke of proposed school activities, such as song festivals, glee clubs, and student orators meeting with other schools in the Santa Clara Valley, that should continue to mean "a busy time for all students making a well rounded education program for the students."

CLEANING SERVICE IMPROVES

The Henry Miller Cleaning Service has announced that there will be improved service for all of Washington Township. There are now two pressers in the Centerville shop. They are Mr. Ken Rogers of San Leandro, who has had fifteen years of experience as a presser and spotter; and Mr. Harold Sewill of Hayward, who has had three years experience in the cleaning business. Due to the increase in business, Mr. Miller will have two trucks to make calls and deliveries in any town in the township. Miss Gladys Johnson, the former presser, is leaving to return to her home in Arizona.

There is a four day cleaning service and a five day laundry service for the customers. A phone call to Centerville 183 or Niles 4436 will bring a truck to your door.

NILES ROTARIANS ELECT OFFICERS

After six years of being treasurer of the Rotary Club, George Bonde of Niles, who, according to directors of the club, has done a magnificent job of taking care of the club's funds, with the assistance of his secretary, Mrs. Gertrude Enos, has declined to accept another term, because he feels that others in the organization should be given the opportunity of learning more about the club's finances.

Elected to succeed him is John Berchem, able young business man of Niles, who served in the Navy during the war.

Succeeding Rev. D. Q. Grabill as Rotarian president is E. Dixon Bristow, Niles school principal.

Richard Jolly, Newark druggist, was elected secretary.

NEWARK WOMEN WANT BRIDGE TO BE TOLL FREE

Regular meeting of the Newark Women's Improvement Club was held April 9 at the home of Mrs. Ray Alberts. The club went on record as indorsing the resolution adopted by the Newark Chamber of Commerce, to urge the State Highway Commission to open the Dumbarton Bridge to the public traffic toll free.

The club voted to sponsor the plan to provide for a more adequate health program.

The Youth Center, which is sponsored by the Improvement Club, is progressing and in spite of shortages, the club building on Ash street is taking on a completed appearance. The work of construction is proceeding through the faithful work of Chester Gunn, Ray Alberts, Sam Scott, Ray Truscott, Art Cotton, Henry Lewis, Bill Carara and Bill Beck.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the business meeting and a social hour was enjoyed by the ten members who attended.

BIG LEAGUER LEAVES FOR EAST

"It's the first time I ever really left Decoto," said the young man. "I've been away on short visits of course," he added, "but I've never lived away from home."

Kelly will train with the Cards in Columbus.

SHERIFF GLEASON WILL BE SPEAKER AT CHAMBER MEET

County Sheriff Gleason has been secured as the guest speaker for the next Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting on Tuesday, April 16.

The subject of night patrol service has aroused mush interest in several past meetings, and chamber officers say that this next meeting should be of particular import. They are expecting a full turnout of members.

Meeting place for the night of April 16 has been changed to the International Kitchen.

RITES TOMORROW FOR ENOS REIS

LOCAL SCOUTS TO BE IN EXPOSITION AT HAYWARD

Several interesting events are lined up for the Boy Scout Exposition to be held on Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27, at the Burbank school in Hayward, in which local Scouts will take part.

The poster contest participated in by Centerville, Markham, Muir, Burbank, San Lorenzo and Sunset schools will be judged this week. Winners of the contest will receive merchandise orders good in local stores.

B. C. "Bugs" Cain will bring his nature exhibit and will give his famous "snake" talk. This will be on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night will feature Buddy Edstrom's Variety Revue, Charlotte Thomas, famed singer, and the presentation of the plaque. The plaque must be won by the same Scout troop three times in succession in order to be permanently held by any troop. At the present time the plaque is held by Hayward Scout Toop 2. It was previously won by San Lorenzo.

A Scout parade is to be held Saturday afternoon under the direction of Louis Eike. Centerville, representing metal crafts, and Niles Troop, undecided what to represent, have registered for the parade.

LOCAL GIRL WINS HONORS

Jackie Kitchings, 18-year-old student of Washington Union High school, will be one of 15 art students of junior and senior high schools in Alameda county who will be honored Monday, April 15, at a luncheon at Hotel Leamington. The affair will be sponsored by the Oakland Kiwanis Club and the Handicapped and Crippled Children's Guild of Alameda County.

The young guests are winners in the recent Easter seal poster contest sponsored by the Guild. The contest, according to Mrs. Gerald Whitaker of Berkeley was a feature of the annual Easter Seal Sale, returns from which are used to aid handicapped and crippled children.

Among the active member clubs of the Guild are Country Club of Washington Township and the Child Welfare Club No. 1 of Washington Township.

MISS BENJAMIN WILL FLY TO LOS ANGELES

Miss Edith Benjamin, owner-operator of "Your Hairdresser" Beauty Salon in Centerville, will close her salon between April 28 and May 8, to fly down to Los Angeles to attend a Hollywood Beauty Guild Show. In addition to attending the show, she will also spend a few days just relaxing and enjoying her vacation. Her business will be opened again on May 8.

SCHOOL CLASSES EXCHANGE VISITS

The sixth grade classes of the Alvarado and Irvington schools are having the chance this week to visit each other's work and collections in their China unit.

Yesterday the Alvarado pupils were guests at Irvington; today Irvington will be the guest. On display in the classrooms are student drawings and many articles from China such as chessboards, bank notes, silk clothing, and a large hand carved chest.

NO SUGAR? HERE'S THE ANSWER

If the sugar shortage is hitting you pretty hard, here's a chance for you to get a little sweetness out of life with no ration stamps or money necessary.

Dr. H. R. Barton, Niles chiropractor, is offering anybody who has a bee-hive, a thriving, contented, and perfectly amiable swarm of bees, provided that this person will come and get said bees out of his wall where they have taken up lo gings.

"I like bees," said Dr. Barton, "in their place. But my office wall is definitely not the place."

So any bee-fancier is welcome to the busy little creatures, and can claim them by just contacting Dr. Barton.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB PLANS TO HELP NEW ENTERPRISES

At last night's meeting in the grammar school, the Irvington Improvement Club adopted a plan to bring business site seekers and available building lot holders together.

The club will make a study of the locations that are ready or will be ready for sale to prospective business establishments. In doing this the club reports that it expects to help a variety of enterprises to locate in Irvington.

The motion was passed to enter a float in the Washington Township Apricot Festival.

The place for the next meeting, on April 24, will be announced by the club at a later date.

SEWAGE PLANT PROPOSAL MEETS NEW STANDARDS

The Niles and Union Sanitary districts laid plans to meet the new State Health Department regulations on sewage disposal in the bay at a meeting of the sanitary board last Monday in Centerville.

Plans include building of a central processing plant that will make the sewage fit for disposal in the bay in accordance with the standards of the state health department.

Harry Goodridge, engineer, was authorized by the boards to go ahead with blueprints for the processing plant.

E. E. Dias of Niles, J. D. Silva of Newark, and M. J. Bernardo of Centerville were appointed by George Coit, who presided at the meeting, to enlist the support of County Supervisor Chester E. Stanley to secure financial aid from the state. It is hoped by the boards that the districts will be eligible for funds under the provisions of the "Christmas-tree Bill," which specifies that half of the cost of certain county improvements will be borne by the state.

NEW BUILDING FOR KRAFTILE

To accommodate the increased activities of its stepped-up postwar program, office space is being doubled at the Niles headquarters of the Kraftile Company, it has been announced by C. W. Craft, president of the building materials manufacturing and distributing firm.

"Our sales activity in many lines has expanded rapidly and we have urgently needed the space," said President Kraft. He disclosed that Chester Root, A.I.A., of the firm of Higgins and Root, San Jose, had been retained to design the larger office as a practical display of certain Kraftile products.

A quonset building is being erected on a brick wall and the present office structure is being incorporated into the over-all design by means of a brick and plate glass front.

JOHN A. MILLER STARTS CAMPAIGN

John A. Miller, candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, opened his election campaign at Livermore, the city where he as a boy attended grammar school.

The former sheriff of Contra Costa county and civic leader is renewing old friendships in the Livermore and Southern Alameda county area.

John A. Miller was reared on a farm in the Livermore Valley. During the war years, John A. Miller served as Area Co-ordinator of Civilian Defense in this area, and at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Josephine Page of the Livermore Rebekah Lodge has been elected by her lodge and recommended by other lodges of District 53 to be appointed as district deputy president of District 53 for the coming term of 1946-47. Her appointment will be confirmed when the Rebekah Assembly convenes in Santa Cruz May 13-19.

Mrs. Page will succeed Mrs. Ivy Cull of Niles Rebekahs.

JUNIOR C. OF C. FAVORS MORE PARKING AREA

The Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce this week has been testing public opinion on a proposed plan to mark off parking stalls on First, I, and H streets.

The plan to allot more parking areas in the business section of Niles is meeting with favorable criticism, according to Committee Chairman Jack Parry.

Early this week the chamber received from County Surveyor Boggs a scale map showing where the parking lines might be painted. It is also proposed to paint pedestrian crosswalks in front of the bus depot and across I and H streets.

Interested opinion is also being sought by the committee on the suggestion that a two-hour limit be placed on parking in the busy section around the bus depot. Those contacted thus far state that a time limitation would help the parking situation in this area, according to Parry.

He is inviting any parties interested to view the scale map at his office in the bank.

QUEEN CONTEST FOR FESTIVAL BEGINS TOMORROW

The contest for queen of the Washington Apricot Festival is on!

Candidates will receive their books of tickets tomorrow, and each ticket sold is worth 100 votes. On midnight, June 15, sale of tickets to the festival Coronation Ball will be closed, and to the lucky candidate with the most votes goes to the coveted prize of queen and the airplane trip to Hollywood.

The promise of a special crowning of the queen was added this week. Governor Earl Warren has been invited to crown the queen, according to Gus Robertson, publicity chairman.

Several more township organizations have signed up to take part in the festival.

Betsy Ross Parlor No. 238 of the Native Daughters of the Golden West from Centerville are entering either a float or a marching unit and a booth. Mission San Jose Fire Department will be well represented with a float, a booth and a fire truck for the procession.

Not to be outdone by their menfolk, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Irvington Fire Department will be at the festival with a float and a booth. The St. James Institute of the Y.L.I. will establish a booth. Marching in the parade will be Irvington Boy Scout Troop No. 1, sponsored by the Irvington P.T.A.

CHAMBER REPORTS STEVENS STREET A CIVIC BENEFIT

Progress on the Centerville Chamber of Commerce proposal for the opening of Stevens street was the principal committee report at last Thursday's meeting.

Committeeman M. Lewis outlined the many residential or business lots that would be opened with the routing of this street behind the post office and new theater. Development of this area would be of benefit to the community, according to Lewis. He reported that there is a hesitancy on the part of some owners to sell their property for the right of way.

Fred Rogers, vice-president, was the acting president for this meeting in the absence of Loren Marriott.

REV. JAMES BROWN WILL LEAVE NEWARK CHURCH

It is with considerable regret that the congregation of the Newark Presbyterian Church learned at a meeting last week that Rev. James Brown is leaving Newark.

Mr. Brown, who with his wife and family has been here for almost two years, has been very successful in increasing the membership in the church and Sunday school.

He has not yet accepted another church, but will probably do so before the date of his leaving, which has been set for the last of June.

CANYON HEIGHTS HOUSE NUMBERS NOW AVAILABLE

Residents in Canyon Heights who have for several years been trying vaguely (and sometimes vainly) to direct visitors to their respective homes, may now sit back and relax, knowing that from here on in their guests will be able to locate a home by number rather than by some incoherent directions such as "the little house with the picket fence and the pink petunias."

The Canyon Heights district is divided into two tracts, Tract No. 633, and Tract No. 597. Each property owner knows his tract number and lot number, and can thereby find his house number in the list below, which was compiled by Ed Mara.

9 TEAMS ENTER SOFTBALL LEAGUE FOR TOWNSHIP

It's been a long, long time since township fans saw a league softball game!

On August 19, 1942—to be exact—a record crowd was on hand, at the high school grounds, to witness the championship playoff between the Native Sons and Woodmen of the World. Fans no doubt remember that the Native Sons walked away with the trophy for the third time in four years by taking this final game, 5 to 2

"The Washington Township Softball League Association will have a 1946 season," said President Al Silveria this week. "Most of the former players are back from the service and, with the natural development of new talent during those four years, the association expects to have a banner season with nine clubs in the field when league playing officially gets under way the night of May 20."

TEAM MANAGERS

The league teams and their managers, according to Silveria, are: Natives Sons, Kenny Ferry; Woodmen of the World, B. Pine; Wedgewood, Oscar Nemith; Westvaco, Ralph Chapman; Central Chervolet, Arthur Belshaw; Kraftile, Jean Blanjean; Mission Firemen, Frank Mayer; Kleine's, Mal Vargas; and Frick's, Frank Lewis.

Club members are not yet definite on their starting line-ups, but they are doing their best to sign up the township talent. A quick glance through the tentative list of pitchers for the coming season shows names that will be remembered for good and consistent mound work.

ROGERS AT MISSION

Larry Rodgers is going over to the Mission Firemen; Tony Ornellas will be with Wedgewood; Lee Telles is expected back with the Native Sons; Mal Vargas should be in there for Kleine's; Harry and Frankie Avilla will make a brother staff with Frick's. Lefty Miller, back from service in the Philippines, is still receiving medical treatment and it is not known whether he will start the season with Westvaco.

The softball association was started in 1939 as a non-profit organization with the by-law that players must live and work in the township. This township residence requirement of the association remains in the agreements, according to Silveria.

AMARAL ASSISTS

Assisting Silveria in the handling of league matters are Louis Amaral, vice-president; Joe Machado, treasurer; and the board members, including Matt Whitfield, Fred Rodgers, Fred Mueller and E. Dixon Bristow. Last night the association officials held a meeting with the managers to discuss insurance coverage for the players.

So, once again—at the high school grounds, under the lights, two games a night and five nights a week, it will be—play ball!

JACK ALBERG SEEKS RE-ELECTION AS TRUSTEE

Jack Alberg of Niles, incumbent school trustee, this week filed for re-election. He has been on the board for a number of years.

Smart Setup for Spring

Black Beauties

WITH the first breath of spring the thoughts of every woman turn toward new clothes...especially a becoming hat and the other things that go to make up a well turned out ensemble. The right hat and a smart handbag, shoes and other well-chosen accessories are the greatest morale boosters in the world. And no one will deny that an old suit or last year's dress takes on new glamour under the tonic of flattering accessories.

In a season when color harmony has such fashion importance the matched accessories shown in the above photograph are particularly interesting. They are made of "Vinylite" high gloss black plastic . . . a black so beautiful, so luminous that it flatters all who believe in distinction at its best. And equally important is the fact that this smart, new material is just as practical as it's lovely, for its gleaming surface does not change: it never loses its softness or flexibility, and it needs only to be wiped with a damp cloth now and then to look new again. Born of the exacting demands of our armed forces at war, "Vinylite" plastics have now invaded the postwar world, carrying along with them many virtues and, seemingly, no shortcomings.

This lustrous, black plastic has been expertly worked into a charming sideswept hat trimmed with matching flowers. The fetching earrings are diminutive replicas of the flowers on the hat. The smart shirred bag in a pannier, handle-style pouch is made of the same handsome and sturdy plastic material.

HAHNS RETURN FROM ISLANDS

After spending over two months in the Hawaiian Islands, Bishop and Mrs. Hahn arrived home on the Matsonia last Thursday, both looking well, and happy to be back in Niles. They sailed from San Francisco on the Aleutian on January 23, arriving in Honolulu on January 30, encountering some rough seas on the way.

Bisnop and Mrs. Roy Burge, who serve as Divisional Bishop for that territory, entertained them while there. The Hahns visited the churches there and incorporated the work of the Full Gospel Conference of the World in the Islands.

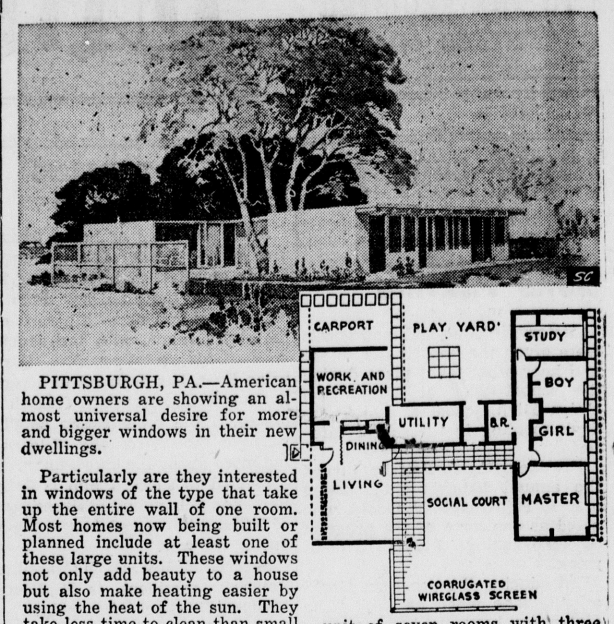
They report a splendid trip and were fortunate to leave a few hours before the tidal wave had swept there on April 1.

While going from Oahu to Maui, some 90 miles, they experienced their first ride in an airplane. They visited the volcano on the mountain of Haleakala, some 10,000 feet above sea level. They were much impressed with the friendly welcome of the natives, and visited some of the most outstanding places there.

The sugar and pineapple plantations and large cattle ranches are found on these islands. The Dole pineapple factory, largest in the world, was visited, also the buildings of the ancient kings and queens of the primitive days.

Mr. Hahn is writing a book on his trip which should prove to be very interesting.

New Homes Feature Glass



PITTSBURGH, PA.—American home owners are showing an almost universal desire for more and bigger windows in their new dwellings.

Particularly are they interested in windows of the type that take up the entire wall of one room. Most homes now being built or planned include at least one of these large units. These windows not only add beauty to a house but also make heating easier by using the heat of the sun. They take less time to clean than small windows with the usual small panes.

First Prize Winner

Indicative of the new use of glass for homes is this design by architects Norman and Jean Fletcher which won first prize in the national "House For Cheerful Living" competition sponsored by Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Pittsburgh Corning companies. More than 900 architects competed. This design calls for an H-shaped unit of seven rooms with three bedrooms, a work and recreation room, living room, dining area, and a prefabricated utility and kitchen area.

Windows range in size from the normal units in the bedrooms to the full-wall sliding panels facing the living area. These panels permit use of the social court as an integral part of the living quarters. The national trend in home building is toward this type of functional use of windows and large areas of glass.

LOUISVILLE'S INDUSTRY

Three-fifths of the output of Kentucky's 1,700 industries by dollar value comes from plants in Louisville. About 75,000 wage earners in the state are paid some $70,000,000 annually to turn out items valued at over $600 millions. MISSION SAN JOSE NEWS

WITH LOIS JUSTUS

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence and daughters, and Mrs. George Rodrigues and daughters were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Amaral and sons of Sunnyvale over the week-end.

The home of Mrs. Grace Meyers was the scene of another one of our nice little Mop Parties on Tuesday evening, April 2. Mr. Culbertson of the Stanley Products demonstrated his wares after a few delightful games. Mrs. Mary Rodrigues, Mrs. Mary Borges, Mrs. Lena Griffin, Mrs. Lois Justus, Mrs. Leonard Cox, Mrs. Margaret Phillips and Mrs. Josephine Fernandez attended. A lovely home made cake and coffee was served by the hostess. Mrs. Mary Rodrigues will have the next party and Mrs. Margaret Phillips will follow with one near the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bramwell and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. McGowan and family and Mr. and Mrs. Metz and daughter, Doris, at a dinner party recently at their home here.

Better late than never is the announcement of the birth of little David Elmo Andrade, son of r. and Mrs. Elmo Andrade. He weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces at birth and arrived on March 12. His daddy is a former Marine sergeant in many of the toughest battles out in the Pacific, so little David will no doubt get an earfull of his daddy's experiences as he grows up. The family is now living here in the Mission with Mrs. Hortense Andrade, his mother. They formerly lived in Alameda, close to Elmo's base.

Clarence Souza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Souza, fell at the Roller Rink in Irvington and received lacerated hands and a very bad gash on his forehead.

Mrs. Eleana Perreira of Palm avenue recently spent several days in Oakland where she visited with her daughter, Mrs. Carl LaFrano. She was the former Eleanor Costa.

Angelo Pabrua, former staff sergeant of the U. S. Philippino Division, spent Sunday evening with his former employers, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Starr and with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Perreira, relating many of his experiences.

Melvin Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Callahan, has returned from many months overseas. He has gone to Los Angeles to be with his wife, Elaine.

Jack Perreira, fire chief of the Mission department, and John Souza were guests at the Ashland Fire Department meeting recently. On Sunday, April 7, the Mission Fire Department played baseball against the team from Oakland Y.M.I. with a score of 13 to 3 in favor of the Mission boys. Lawrence Rogers Jr., a former air corp man, pitched the game and Clarence Telles, former U.S.N., hit the only home run of the game.

What next: Father Lawrence of St. Mary's, not satisfied with purchasing bicycles and scooters for the girls of the home, has gotten two ponies also to help make them happy. Every one is very happy about it all.

Frank Azevedo, who has been in the European theater for many years, has returned to his home here with a discharge and came to see his mother, Mrs. Antionette Azevedo. This was the first time she had seen her son in almost four years.

Mrs. James Young who, along with her husband, Jim, have been remodeling their buildings for apartments, was quite seriously injured when a can of tar slipped from the roof of the house and hit her on the head. She had to have several stitches taken. She is on the mend now.

Mr. and Mrs. Escalon Reis of San Jose, former owners of the Mission Garage, spent the week-end in the Mission visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Castro of Our Place spent Monday in Oakland visiting their daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Huddleston, the former Nelle Warren.

Miss Eileen Harrison is on a week's vacation before starting on her new position as cashier for the Mercantile Loan Company of San Jose.

Mrs. Elsie Wilcox was a very happy person when her son, James L. Cross and family, arrived from Colorado to spend a week here at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lois Justus. Mrs. Wilcox had not seen the family since four years ago and Mrs. Justus had never met Mrs. Cross nor any of her family before. They spent some time in San Francisco and Oakland and at Redwood City visiting another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Cross and family. They returned to Colorado the last of last week, hitting a lot of new snow near Truckee and in Wyoming.

LOCAL NURSERY PREPARES FOR GARDEN SHOW

The California Nursery, getting ready for the annual California Spring Garden Show to be held April 30-May 5 in Oakland, this week removed bulbs that had been kept in cold storage to defer their blooms,, and placed them in a lath house so that the blooms will be at their peak during the show.

The Nursery, which has always been successful in winning first prizes and sweepstake prizes at the famed garden show, is planning entries in the rose and bulb sections as well as an entry in the commercial sectons.

Truly an indication of the growth of western industry from a national standpoint, the California Spring Garden Show began in 1929 as a minor exhibit by a group of Oakland business men, until at the present time it has achieved world wide recognition as one of the six great shows of its kind in the world.

This year the theme "El Dorado" was selected in keeping with the many centennial celebrations to be held throughout the year marking the statehood of California. Reaching into the past—the olden, golden days, officials of the show are sparing no expense to make the 1946 production memorable.

Entering through a circle of covered wagons the visitors will ascend through a moss covered tunnel to a vantage point from which may be seen a breath-taking scene filtered through a gossamer waterfall. With the aid of modern pre-fabrication great flumes have been constructed leading to the show piece of the exhibit, a life size replica of Marshall's Mill, with its huge waterfall over which thousands of gallons of water will flow daily.

A spectacular array of floral elegance is promised by production manager Howard Gilkey, to be displayed against a background of forest greenery and imaginative scenic effects. Solid banks of Rhododendrons, masses of Anthuriums, spring bulbs and tulips now being held back in cold storage vaults—from Holland and Hawaii will come special consignments for particular displays. Flowers in keeping with the 1850-60 period will also be used, and the orchid display this year is second only to the main exhibit.

Additional exhibits will be offered by garden clubs, organizations, nurseries, retail and wholesale florists, federated clubs, flower arrangement groups and individual amateurs. The California Spring Garden Show, for more than 14 years an event of importance in the Bay Region, is the official show of the First District Agricultural Association.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK AT ALVARADO SCHOOLS

The story of the origin and growth of this country was presented yesterday at the Alvarado school by the fourth and fifth grades in a pageant of song and dance and appropriate costumes.

This Public Schools Week event marked the culmination of three units of the last six school months. The units and yesterday's program were under the direction of Miss Hughes, Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Connolly.

CENTERVILLE BOYS HAVE MORE HEAT

Centerville is coming through for its scout troop.

Eagle's Nest, meeting place of Troop No. 1, has a brand new oil burning heating system.

The Nest was heated by a wood burning unit for awhile, but sound judgment ruled that this type of heating system was a fire hazard. So, the ball got rolling on the installation of an adequate and safe way of making the troops warm on cold meeting nights.

Edward Ferriera furnished the labor and a substantial part of the costs. There was a good deal more financing to be done, so M. Lewis decided that would be his job.

Lewis met with complete results. The Centerville donors are Santos Brothers, Joe Adams, Henry Gomes, Central Chevrolet, Sunrise Bakery and Dallas Paul.

MISS RODERICK AT NILES THEATER

Miss Janice Roderick will be the cashier at the Niles Theater for the next two weeks, substituting for Miss Jeanette Vieux.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Will the person who stopped at the intersection of Main Street and Fremont Avenue in Centerville, on the night of April 1, 1946, at 7:15 p.m., when the late W. W. Walton was struck and fatally injured, and who, according to my information, later at the Cloverdale Creamery in Centerville, remarked that he saw a car proceeding without lights toward Alvarado on North Main Street, please contact me at the undersigned address?

I would be grateful to hear from any witness to the accident who can give me information that will corroborate the above, or any additional information regarding the accident.

Seattle Navy Man Claims Niles Bride

Wearing a white princess-style satin gown, made with a sweetheart neckline and long train, Miss Marjorie Jackson presented a lovely picture as she walked up the aisle of the Niles Congregational Church last Saturday evening to become the bride of Wendell LeRoy Ogaard, AOM 3c.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Fournier, of 950 First Street, Niles, was escorted to the altar, which was banked with iceberg peach blossoms, calla lillies, and breath of heaven, by her cousin, F. Rose of Hayward.

Marjorie carried two orchids on a white prayer book from which fell cascades of white sweet peas.

The couple exchanged their vows at a 7:30 o'clock candlelight double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of guests. The Rev. D. Q. Grabill officiated.

Miss Betty Rose of Niles was maid-of-honor. Her dress was of white lace and net. She carried a bouquet of pastel sweet-peas and carnations. Her picture hat was also of white lace. Miss Nelda Gaunt, bridesmaid, was similarly attired.

Beverly Benett and Pat Owens served as taper lighters, and later, with Pat Mohn, assisted at the reception held at the Fournier home, where the many lovely wedding gifts were on display.

The bride's mother, and also the groom's mother, wore formal skirts and attractive blouses adorned by corsages of gardenias and sweet peas.

Calvin Jones, AOM 3c, a buddy of the groom, acted as best man.

Coming down from their home in Seattle for the ceremony were the young benedict's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ogard, who returned to Seattle Sunday.

The newlyweds are also in Seattle for their honeymoon, and upon their return will live in their apartment on the Centerville road. For her going-away outfit the new Mrs. Ogard chose a pink wool suit with brown accessories, with an orchid corsage.

Standing up with her as matron-of-honor was Mrs. Nick Fazio who was attired in blue lace net, carrying a bouquet of roses. Miss Emily Tacchelli, a cousin of the groom, served as an usher and Silvio Tacchella and Remo Cerruti were altar boys. Nick Fazio was best man.

Following the simple ceremony, with Mrs. Velma Lewis playing the wedding march, the young couple greeted their friends at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Accinelli.

UNSETTLED OUTLOOK FOR FRUIT AND NUTS

The immediate future of the California fruit and nut industry appears bright on the whole, but for the longer run the outlook is less certain, as shown by a recent report of the University of California.

The outlook report was prepared by George Alcorn, marketing specialist of the Agricultural extension Service, and S. W. Shear of the Giannini Foundation.

Domestic purchasing power and demands for food will be great during the next year, but the longer outlook depends upon what level of national income is maintained at home and how much the demand for export of our products to foreign markets falls below pre-war levels.

Returns to California deciduous fruit producers during the war were much greater than pre-war returns, largely because supplies of fruits and of many other consumer goods could not be materially increased and military and civilian demands were very great. Purchasing power was far beyond anything ever experienced.

Before the war an average of 11 per cent of the national fruit crop was exported to foreign countries, over 70 per cent of the exports going to Europe. Military needs for canned fruits this year will be less than one-half of those used in 1945. Foreign demand for our fruits, exclusive of amounts for relief, appears unfavorable this year.

Aside from questions of domestic and foreign demands and government controls, the fruit industry is faced with other serious problems such as labor supply, transportation, packaging, shock, and containers.

NEW SOIL FUMIGANTS FOR WIREWORMS

Destruction of wireworms on a large scale is now practical and economical with soil fumigation. This is now possible through two new chemicals and new equipment for supplying them.

The use of soil fumigants for controlling wireworms is not a new practice, but previous materials and methods were not economical where commercial acreage was involved. The new chemicals are D-D (dichloropropane-dichloropropene), and EDB (ethylene dibromide). Mechanical means have been developed for spreading these fumigants in the home garden or in large commercial acreages.

D-D was first used against nematodes, but it has since been found to control wireworms, garden centipedes, and certain other soil pests.

Texture, moisture, and temperature of the soil, and many other factors enter into the use of D-D for control of earth pests. These factors have been studied by the College of Agriculture of the University of California in tests made in the Salinas and Sacramento Valleys.

A new bulletin by W. H. Lange Jr., junior entomologist in the University Experiment Station, will be of interest to farmers wishing to control underground pests. The bulletin, "The Use of Two New Soil Fumigants, D-D and EDB, for Wireworm Control in California, is available to farmers through the Agricultural Extension Service, P. O. Building, Hayward.

SEEDS SHOULD BE STORED CORRECTLY

With the exception of parsnips, onions and sweet corn, vegetable seeds will still germinate for two years or more provided they have been stored in a dry place since the last planting season. Lettuce, squash, melon, spinach, cabbage, radish, and turnip seed are good for five years.

PROTECT YOUR RED FLANNELS FROM MOTHS

Suits, coats, dresses, and all articles containing wool are subject to moth infection. This damage can be avoided if proper care is given before storing them for the summer months. Mrs. M. W. Holman, Home Demonstration Agent, tells us how to do it.

Wool garments which are soiled should be dry-cleaned and aired until the solvent is evaporated but not deodorized. If dry-cleaned at home, use a non-combustible clean- fluid. Do not use gasoline for cleaning purposes. Too great hazards are involved. Do all your dry cleaning out of doors, away from buildings and dry grass, and away from fire.

If commercially cleaned, arrange to have garments cleaned but neither deodorized nor pressed. Dry cleaning kills all forms of moths but does not impart moth resistance. Before storing, all garments should be packed in boxes, securely wrapped in paper, and labeled as to content.

Wool garments which do not require cleaning should be brushed should be inspected for spots and thoroughly inside and out and unall spots removed. Most of the der each arm. These garments spots found on clothing are caused by food which contains either sugar or fats. Sugar spots are removed with water, and grease spots with solvent. Carbon tetrachloride is recommended because it is nonexplosive and noninflammable. Sun and air the garments on right and wrong side. Secure paradichlorobenzine, often called PDB, and sprinkle between folds before packing.

BERKELEY SUMMER SESSION JUNE 24

Two summer sessions on the Berkeley campus of the University of California are announced by Director J. Harold Williams. The first, from June 24 to August 2, replaces the old Intersession; the second starts on August 5 and ends September 13. Registration for the first session will be June 22 and 24, and for the second session August 3 and 5.

Students under 21 years of age must be high school graduates; those over that age are assumed to have graduated from high school or to have maturity and special fitness for the type of work desired. Auditors also are admitted to classes at the regular fee, but receive no credit for the courses they attend.

"The purpose of the summer sessions," says Director Williams, "is to provide essential training for all types of students; to equip undergraduate and graduate students, teachers, school executives, nurses, homemakers, social workers and other professional groups for improved service; and to assist returning service men and women to resume their educational programs."

The Bulletin of the summer sessions is ready for distribution, and may be obtained from the office of the Director of Summer Sessions, University of California, Berkeley 4.

More than a million people may be unemployed in California by the end of the year, according to studies of the University of California Bureau of Public Administration.

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T DECORATE

If your attempts at decorating have up to now consisted of moving the furniture around or putting new slip covers on the easy chair and sofa, then it's time to try your hand at some of those little expensive-if-you-buy-them odds and ends that are simple and fun to do. "They" say anyone can paint, and things do seem to come alive under the magic of a paint brush.

UNUSUAL WALL DECORATIONS: For kitchen, breakfast room or laundry, enamel pie or cake pans, a fancy fluted one makes the "picture" even nicer, and put a colorful decal in the center of each pan. Hang them up by means of cloth suspension rings pasted on the backs. Or choose colorful flower prints from seed catalogs or home magazines and mount on material to match the curtain's valances. Place in old frames painted to accent the room's color scheme.

Both decorative and useful is an old funnel painted in harmony with kitchen or entry color scheme and used as a holder for a ball of twine. Hang below it upside down a transparent protector of garment shoulders, with pockets seamed in on the sewing machine. Tuck a pair of scissors, mailing tags, sealing tape and the like, in the "compartments."

MORE PAINT IDEAS

While you're in the painting mood, enamel a dustpan a bright color, adding a design to suit your fancy. Tack it up to hold the day's collection of mail. Or use it to catch the bills, clippings, mail-to-be-answered, notes on have-to-dos.

And if this isn't enough then work on those dark steps leading to the basement and—Washday. Paint the tread a bright blue, the riser jonquil yellow decorated with peasant decals from the dime store. Give the walls a similar treatment.

To get away from the paint idea, add a homey touch to breakfast room or kitchen by making "tiebacks" for the curtains by bending flexible kitchen spoons at the handle. Then fasten the handle to the window frame and let the shiny bowl come outside the curtains. Of course, there's nothing to stop you from painting them, too. Who said you couldn't be a decorator?

FLASH — NEED A MIRROR FOR GUEST OR POWDER ROOM?—Frame any inexpensive mirror by tacking to the frame or gluing on pink pleated chintz or eyelet embroidery ruffles. If you can find a matching eyelet insertion, run a ribbon in a ravishing color, maybe fuchsia or turquoise, and use to cover the joining.

The War on Cancer

For every American killed by Axis enemies between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day, two Americans were slain by an enemy far deadlier than any mortal foe—the scourge of cancer. America's cancer death list in the war period was 607,000, or more than twice the war death list.

In this month of April, proclaimed Cancer Control Month by President Truman and the Congress, the public is asked to contribute 12 million dollars to the splendid service of the American Cancer Society. It is little enough, less than 10 cents per capita, to combat a killer that may be expected to attack one person in seven. Part of the program is public education on the danger signals of incipient cancer. For, in addition to contributing to the fund, the individual can best be protect himself and his family by seeing his doctor at the faintest sign of danger, Emphasis upon the early diagnosis has cut down the death rate from tuberculosis in remarkable degree. Until science "solves" cancer, similar emphasis will remain the most effective weapon against it for millions of possible victims. Meanwhile, every dollar spent upon cancer research and treatment facilities is money well spent for all America.

America's war veterans are getting a much-deserved break in the new building regulations which are designed to channel all materials, except those for essential construction, into homes costing less than $10,000 for ex-servicemen.

In California it is estimated that about 180,000 veteran families are, or will be, looking for adequate shelter this year. Many of these families are ready for home ownership. The G.I. Bill of Rights, now streamlined and practical, will aid them tremendously in attaining this end.

The simple process of getting a loan requires that the veteran first select the home he wants to buy, or the plans and location for the one he wants to build. Having agreed upon a price with the owner or builder he goes to his bank and presents this data along with his discharge papers.

Let us assume that the price he has agreed to pay is in line with today's costs and conditions, also that he has a good credit record and sufficient income to meet the regular loan installments as they would fall due. Under these conditions the loan can be made virtually at once. What is more, California's largest bank which serves more than 300 communities, has announced that veterans will not have to make any down payment on homes under $10,000 where requirements such as those mentioned are met.

America is shooting at 2,700,000 new homes in the next year or two. Under the building regulations now in effect most of these homes will be built for veterans. This may work a handicap on non-veterans who want to build, but our first consideration must be for those men who fought for our country.

Certainly, no one will begrudge them their hard-won privilege.

Pan-America Day

Pan-Amecican Day—April 14—was first observed 15 years ago when President Hoover asked that it be celebrated "to express the spirit of continental solidarity and the friendly feeling which the Government and people of the United States entertain toward the peoples and Governments of the other Republics of the American Continent."

But for the past several years we have not enjoyed "continental solidarity" due to the fascist sympathies and activities of Argentine leaders. Nor have we had a "friendly feeling" toward Peron and his government.

These facts, however, do not make Pan-American Day an occasion of any less importance. Rather, the Day takes on added significance this year because it calls our attention to the vital need for a better understanding and for closer cooperation between the nations of the Western Hemisphere.

The American people do not dislike Juan Peron any less because he has been approved by Argentine voters, but it would appear that our best course now, in view of the election, would be better to work toward better relations with his government. It is to be hoped that more of a constructive nature will be accomplished in this way than by remaining aloof.

The ability of the American nations to cooperate for the common good will have an important bearing on world peace and progress.

The War is Over

The war is over at last—that is, the War of 1812.

The United States recently closed its books on that war when the last pensioner died. That pensioner was a woman 82 years of age, the daughter of a veteran of 1812.

If it took more than 130 years to finally settle accounts on such a small war, how long will we bay paying off on World War II?

Lt. Cmdr, CHARLES RICHARD PURDY of Canyon Heights, has been discharged from the Navy at the Personnel Separation Center in San Francisco.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

Seen under the "Coming Events" column of a weekly paper last week (we won't mention the name): THURSDAY, APRIL 4—REPORT CARDS.

Tch, tch, Mr. B., don't you think we're a little old for that sort of thing?

"OUR" RANCH

"Well," said the editor, "you look like a cat who has just licked up a bowl of cream."

"I am no cat," I retorted, "at least not any more than most women, and I do not take cream on account of I am on a diet."

"Well, then," continued the editor, "what gives you that smug, all's-right-with-the-world air?"

"It's because of that down payment we made last Saturday on the Old Hearst Ranch," I said. "It makes you feel so good to know that you have an interest in a big place like that. Just think of that gorgeous swimming pool and that beautiful Hawaiian interior, not to menton the golf course, and the mural done by Diego Riviera. To think that we have a share in all that!"

"Look, my good woman," said the editor, patient-like, "that money I paid at the Old Hearst Ranch last Saturday night was not, as you so quaintly put it, a down payment on the place. It simply paid for one evening of dinner and dancing there."

"That can't be," I exclaimed. "I have already invited a large group of friends up there to be our guests for the week-end!"

At this point the editor had nothing to say. He just groaned, like maybe he had ptomaine or something. Editors are very odd people.

Seriously, though, the Old Hearst Ranch, which most people around here call Castlewood, is a very pleasant place in which to spend an evening. Although you do have to pay toll when you enter the grounds, you pay no cover charge, which probably makes it no more expensive than other places of the kind. And the food is good, and plentiful, and as I said, the Hawaiian effects are attractive.

COMMON PEOPLE

Someone was heard to remark the other day, when reading a copy of the Township Register: "This paper never has anything in it about the common people."

That is the most amazing thing I have heard since I have come to Niles—and I have heard some rather amazing things!

Obviously this person thinks we have a little blue book—in which we list the names of those who, because of money or position or prestige, are eligible to have their names printed in our paper.

This is all very flattering. It more or less sets us up as being a Social Register, instead of a Township Register. But I am afraid I am going to have to disillusion this person who thinks we never have anything about the "common people."

For one thing, just who are the common people?

Well, I consider myself a common person (the editor nods in agreement), and don't you, and you, and you consider yourself common people? You don't? Well, what have you done to make you uncommon?

You see, people are just people. Most of us are the same, just sort of nice and ordinary—and common. (And by common I don't mean coarse). It's only when we really do something outstanding—and how few of us do!—that we can really be called uncommon.

It all adds up to this then: practically all of us in Washington Township are "common people," aren't we? If we just confined our news to those very few who are uncommon, then we wouldn't have any paper.

In other words, if you have any news about yourself or your family that you think should be in the paper, don't hesitate for any such silly reason as "Oh, they don't want news about me. I'm just a common person."

A classified advertiser of ours, who has been running an ad in an attempt to locate a home in this locality, has decided to move to Hollister instead. He said he couldn't find a home in Niles, nor Irvington, and "Centerville is too metropolitan for me."!!!

DANCING?

We journeyed all the way to San Jose the other evening to see Martha Graham, the dancer.

I was very glad that we had not paid to see this eccentric dancer (we used our passes). If we had paid to see her, I would have been very irked with her. It is never pleasant to see people suffer, and Miss Graham, judging from her pained expressions and her writhings, was obviously suffering.

Frankly, I think she should go see a doctor. But there will be some who will opine that I simply don't understand "art".

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for April 14 is the question "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Why are thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God" (43:5).

Citation from the sermon: Revelation 21:3: "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God."

$400,000,000 construction program under way on the Pacific Coast

During the next five years, a four hundred million dollar construction program is planned to improve and expand telephone service on the Pacific Coast.

This program is already under way and is going ahead steadily.

In 1946 alone, more than 70 building projects, installation of eight billion feet of wire in exchange cable and construction of 200,000 miles of toll and long distance circuits are expected to be completed. Work will be started on the Western part of a nation-wide coaxial cable network for long distance and television transmission, and in the next few years many new services and improvements will be introduced.

For it is our purpose to grow with the West and to help the West grow—to provide an ever-widening, ever-improving telephone service.

Sportsmen's News

The California Division of Fish and Game is now making a thorough census of the population of sea lions along the California coast and devising means of cutting down the numbers by one half, according to Dr. Francis N. Clark, chief of the bureau of marine fisheries. The Fish and Game commission recommended at its recent meeting in Sacramento that herds be cut 50 per cent to save sports and commercial fishing along the coast.

The commission took its action after hearing representatives of the state's commercial fishermen, as well as sportsmen, as to the huge amount of destruction the sea lions were causing.

"Every care will be taken to see that the population is not critically decimated but it is hoped that control measures can be carried far enough to bring relief to the fishermen," Dr. Clark said.

According to previous counts, the herd was estimated at approximately 8,000. This was evenly divided between two species (1) the Stellar sea lion which is found from the Oregon line to Santa Cruz Island and (2) the California sea lion (Zalophus Californianus) found south of Point Reyes and along the Mexican coast.

Until about 10 years ago the California sea lion was taken in Mexican waters for dog food, and on the California hauling grounds some poaching of both species occurred. However, these activities eventually proved unprofitable and for 10 years or more sea lions have been relatively unmolested.

"As a result, the sport and commercial fishermen are troubled more and more by the interference of sea lions," Dr. Clark stated. "The animals frighten away the fish, tear the nets, and steal the fish from the hooks and gill nets.

"The Fish and Game Code permits fishermen to kill sea lions which are interfering with fishing activities but this does not solve the fisherman's difficulties."

Over the past few years the Division of Fish and Game has made limited killings of both adults and pups in an attempt to keep the population under control. The most serious obstacle in such control is the disposal of the carcasses. If killed at sea the body sinks and cannot be recovered until it has partially decomposed filled with gas, and floated ashore where it is a serious nuisance.

If killed on the hauling grounds the carcasses are too heavy to handle without suitable lifting gear and the disposal by burial or burning presents a very difficult problem. No use for meat, oil or hides has been devised which proved economically sound. The value of the hides is too low to pay the cost of skinning and rendering plants have not been able to process the animals.

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK OPENING PLANNED

The opening of Crater Lake National Park depends on the clearance of the heavy snows on the highways, reports the touring department of the National Automobile Club. No official opening date has been set for the lodge and cafeteria but possibly the latter part of July will find these facilities in operation.

MISS KNOLES IS NEW PRESIDENT OF B. P. W. C.

The Business and Professional Women's Club elected new officers at their meeting on Monday night, April 8, at the home of Mrs. Rose Vieux of Niles.

Miss Grace Knoles of Centerville will be the new president. Also elected were Mrs. Josephine Morris of Irvington to be vice-president; Mrs. Rose Vieux as treasurer; Irma Boland of Centerville, recording secretary; Miss Yvonne Whitehurst of Centerville, corresponding secretary; Miss Roselyn Egan of Mission San Jose, auditor.

The new directors for the board are Mrs. Tonia Snodgrass, Niles; Mrs. Bernice Nordvik, Centerville; Mrs. Gertrude Enos, Niles; Mrs. Lee Hyde, Centerville; and Mrs. Viola Dias of Niles.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the next meeting on May 13. Officiating at the installation ceremonies will be Mrs. Marie Campbell of San Jose, bay district president of the club.

Miss Carmelita Berge, outgoing president, and Miss Yvonne Whitehurst were selected as delegates to the Bay District Conference to be held April 13 and 14 at the Big Basin Lodge in the Santa Cruz mountains. Delegates named to the state convention on May 17, 18 and 19, are Miss Grace Knoles and Miss Carmelita Berge, with alternates Miss Yvonne Whitehurst and Mrs. Gertrude Enos. The state convention will meet at Hoberg's in Lake County.

At Monday night's meeting the group voted to join the Blue Cross. A cash donation was voted to the Washington Township Apricot Festival in answer to a letter from the festival committee inviting participation in the festivities.

Mrs. Rose Vieux arranged for the meeting and dinner; Miss Yvonne Whitehurst and Mrs. Gertrude Enos were in charge of decorations; the program for the evening was under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Nordvik; and Miss Carmelita Berge headed the reception committee.

On that memorable day, there was a sorrowing Saviour and a rejoicing multitude. A firm Saviour and a fickle multitude. Why were the multitude so fickle? Because they had no true and deep understanding of what they were shouting about on Sunday. The following Friday it was altogether a different story.

NILES P. T. A. MAY BECOME MOTHERS' CLUB

What may prove to be a bombshell in the quiet life of Niles was dropped this week at the regular meeting of the Niles P.T.A. when it was announced that a special meeting will be called very soon to permit the members of the organization to decide whether or not they wish to continue with the P.T.A. or whether, because of a general lack of interest in the organization, it should be dropped.

The opinion has been expressed that perhaps a Mothers' Club, or Parents' Club, with all funds staying in the locality (in P.T.A. organizations, part of the funds are sent to a central office) might be successful in arousing more interest among the parents.

Those who wish to see the P.T.A. abondoned in favor of a Mothers' Club also claim that some of the ceremony attendant upon P. T. A. customs is too impressive for such a small group as Niles, and could be dispensed with, making the general atmosphere more informal. According to adherents of the Mothers' Club plan, a more informal atmosphere would solve the poor attendance problem which the officers of the P.T.A. have been combatting for the past few years. Meeting after meeting has been held with not more than a handful of members present.

Proponents of the new plan, expecting to meet opposition from some of the long-time members, argue that if these older members do not wish to see the P.T.A. become defunct they will not only have to give it financial support, but more active support, including their presence at the meetings.

The special meeting, to decide the whole issue, will be called after the board members have met, and will give both sides a chance to air their views.

In the meantime, however, the time has come for nomination and election of new officers, and so far the nominating committee has found no one to accept the responsibility of being a P.T.A. president, although the grapevine has it that if a Mothers' Club were to be formed, some one could be found who would be willing to shoulder the responsibilities of that organization.
